Can you believe summer is just about over already? You could tell that fall was quickly approaching in Pedro Bay when I was there a few weeks ago! They say, you can tell how much summer is left by how much bloom is left on the Fireweed. I've attached a picture for reference.

Thank you so much for praying for my team. Everything went so well and we were so blessed by our time there. First, God gave us a miracle by giving us a 15 minute layover when we were about to miss our flight...just enough time for us to make it! Literally down to the seconds! I'm so thankful that He sees us and intervenes for us.

This was our second year in Pedro Bay, and we got to meet more people this time! We tried an ice cream social, which brought out about 5-10 people. We also had a pot luck with some of the church members, there were about 20-25 in attendance. We also had the opportunity to tour the medical clinic and talk with the person in charge there, and attend a guest speaker at the little library in the village. My goal was to get our presence known in the community and meet new people.

We had gorgeous weather all week, and that allowed us to get everything done on our to-do list! I really felt like we had a good team, everyone worked hard at whatever they could do and helped each other. It was really humbling to witness. I also had some good one on one time with my father in law, which I am so thankful for.

I am really looking forward to leading a team to Pedro Bay again next year, and continuing to build relationship with the people there. There is still work to be done on the church/parsonage. And we've also asked the village to line up some work for us to help the village elders.

We will have a booth at the Solanco and Lampeter-Strasburg fairs these next few weeks, stop by and see us!

 I have decided to take an online course to deepen my knowledge of the Bible and help me just go deeper in my walk with Jesus. Please pray that I would be able to set aside time for this study. It is a free course, if anyone would be interested in joining me, it is called Contenders Discipleship Initiative by Village Missions.

Thank you so much for your continued prayers and support!

In Him, Heather

The village is actually down in the valley, you can see the airstrip to the right.

My team! Tom, to my right (your left), was my co-leader and really helped us get our work organized and done right! Steve, on my left, has discipled me and helped me grow. I'm so thankful for their leadership and example for me.

The church/parsonage from the air. This is what the village looks like! There is a big community building, an office/medical office building and a small post office.
