Happy March! Spring is in sight! With spring, comes new beginnings, each day a new chance to be obedient to God's call. Don't let satan fool you into thinking it's been too long, or you've tried too many times and failed, or God is disappointed in you...start anew today! He is waiting for you to follow Him. He wants you to find joy in following Him!

I find that serving Him brings me the most joy and fulfillment. I am so thankful to be able to serve Him and show His love to others. How awesome that I can be part of that?! But, I need partners who will cover me in prayer while I am serving, partners who will help me to finance the work and partners to encourage me along the way.

I am so thankful for the people who have been there for me over the last few years! I couldn't have started this journey without them. We all play a part in God's plan and serve in some way, whether that means going, giving or praying!

Plans for the two teams I am leading are coming along! Camp AN is in June. I am working on a packing list, travel insurance, travel itinerary and gathering information to share with my small team. I am excited to go somewhere new and help this camp, and ultimately the kids who will attend camp. What a blessing to be a part of the work the Lord is doing through the camp!

Pedro Bay team in August is filling up! We may in fact be at capacity, maybe 1 spot open. I am really looking forward to returning to the village and seeing the people that I have come to know over the last 2 years. I can't wait to see what new things the Lord has in store for us there. I continue to pray for the church there, that God would send a pastor for them.

Last weekend, I went with a small group to serve the homeless/addicted women in Kensington, Philadelphia. This was a real eye opener for me. God has given me His heart of compassion for these women, His lost sheep, His daughters who are hurting. I'm not sure what my next steps are, but please pray that God would lead me.

I am attaching a support letter as well. If you feel led to join my team of financial supporters, you will find information on how to do that. I would be happy to meet with anyone to talk about the work I am doing! I would also like to start a prayer text group for my mission work. If you would like to be added to this group, please let me know. I need people to pray with me for travel, for things that come up during the trip, etc.

Please continue to pray that God would use me in what He is doing and that I would be obedient. I pray the same for all of you.

Thank you, Father for your many blessings, for your peace and joy, and for being the Good Shepherd to all of your sheep - lost or found.

In Him,

Heather
